E. Opening and Evaluation of Proposals

18. Opening of proposals

The procuring entity will open the Proposals in the presence of a Committee formed by the Head of the procuring UNDP entity.

19. Clarification of proposals

To assist in the examination, evaluation and comparison of Proposals, the Purchaser may at its discretion, ask the Offeror for clarification of its Proposal. The request for clarification and the response shall be in writing and no change in price or substance of the Proposal shall be sought, offered or permitted.

20. Preliminary examination

The Purchaser will examine the Proposals to determine whether they are complete, whether any computational errors have been made, whether the documents have been properly signed, and whether the Proposals are generally in order.

Arithmetical errors will be rectified on the following basis: If there is a discrepancy between the unit price and the total price that is obtained by multiplying the unit price and quantity, the unit price shall prevail and the total price shall be corrected. If the Offeror does not accept the correction of errors, its Proposal will be rejected. If there is a discrepancy between words and figures the amount in words will prevail.

Prior to the detailed evaluation, the Purchaser will determine the substantial responsiveness of each Proposal to the Request for Proposals (RFP). For purposes of these Clauses, a substantially responsive Proposal is one which conforms to all the terms and conditions of the RFP without material deviations. The Purchaser's determination of a Proposal's responsiveness is based on the contents of the Proposal itself without recourse to extrinsic evidence.

A Proposal determined as not substantially responsive will be rejected by the Purchaser and may not subsequently be made responsive by the Offeror by correction of the non-conformity.

21. Evaluation and comparison of proposals

A two-stage procedure is utilized in evaluating the proposals, with evaluation of the technical proposal being completed prior to any price proposal being opened and compared. The price proposal of the Proposals will be opened only for submissions that passed the minimum technical score of 70% of the obtainable score of 1000 points in the evaluation of the technical proposals.

The technical proposal is evaluated on the basis of its responsiveness to the Term of Reference (TOR).

In the Second Stage, the price proposal of all contractors, who have attained minimum 70% score in the technical evaluation, will be compared.

Final combined scoring of each Offeror will be on the basis of combined evaluation of technical score weighting 70% and the financial score weighting 30%. The maximum score obtainable for the price proposal is 100.

The award will be granted to offerors achieving the highest combined score. The formula for determining the financial scores is the following:

$F_s = 100 \times F_1 / F_c$: F_s is the financial score; F_1 is the lowest price and F_c is the price of the proposal under consideration.

The weights given to the technical and financial proposals are: $T=0.7$, $F=0.3$

The highest score will be calculated by formula: $HS = T \times s \times 0.7 + 0.3$

(HS = Highest Score, T_s = technical score, F_s = Financial score)

Annex III- Terms of Reference (TOR)

1. Background

The next presidential and provincial council elections in Afghanistan will be held in 2009. In response to a request from the Government of Afghanistan, the UNDP Afghanistan has developed a programme of technical assistance, which has amongst its objectives the development of an informed electorate.

This will be achieved through assistance to strengthen the overall capacity of the Independent Electoral Commission (IEC) civil society, media, and other agencies critical to the achievement of free and fair elections, and improvement of citizens' participation in the electoral process and understanding of their rights and duties.

The Afghanistan Election Assistance Programme is guided by ten key principles:

1. Harmonization and complementarity with on-going programmes.
2. Coordination with other actors and implementing partners.
3. Utilization of local expertise and partnerships and the partnering of local institutions with any external service providers.
4. Local ownership and focus on long term capacity building.

2. Program Results and Context of Work

In 2009, votes (for the presidential elections at least) will be counted at the polling centers. This is different to the procedures of the 2004/5 elections where votes were transported to district counting centres.

Candidates are entitled to have a registered agent at the polling centre to observe proceedings and to observe the count.. In the lead up to the elections it is important the parties, candidates and candidate agents understand the roles and responsibilities of party agents in polling centres and during the count. This is especially important as for the first time in Afghanistan, votes will be counted at polling centres.

To that end UNDP wishes to engage an organization to provide training to party agents on the roles and responsibilities of party agents at polling places and related activities.
